NEW ARRANGEMENT. The favorite steamer COLUMBIA, Capt. James

Harper, has recently been put in complete order, having had a filed to her former accommodations a spacious saloon and fourteen comfortable staterooms, with entire new bedding and other furniture, and will until the 22d September next, leave Baltimore EVERY SATURDAY AFTERNOON, at six instead of four o'clock -thus affording passengers and shippers two hours more in Baltimore, and arriving at Point Lookout and Kinsale at more convenient hours in the morning. Returning, the Columbia will leave Riley's wharf, Wash ington, EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, at six, and Alexandria at seven o'clock, calling at all the usual stopping places, going and returning, to land and receive passengers and freight.

Since the COLUMBIA has been enlarged, it rarely happens that she cannot take considerable additions to her usual freight. Shippers therefore having large lots of guano, pig iron, and otherfraight, can have thom carried by special agreement, on terms mutually advantageous, on application to the following agents.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A SINGULAR PRESENTIMENT .- The Schenectady News youches for the truth of the following:

"A very remarkable case of presentiment, bordering on the supernatural, has just been told us by a gentleman nearly related to the persons concerned. "Mr. W——, who resides in Schanectady three weeks ago was awakened from his sleep by an unusual noise which he thought proceeded from the adjoining room. More surprised than alarmed, he lighted a candle and went in the apartment, which was used as a spare bedroom. As he opened the door his light went out with the current of air. and he was in total darkness. Presently, however, as he turned to grope his way back, the room grew light as a cellar on a rainy afternoon, through a ground glass overhead, and Mr. W—dimly saw his eldest son on the bed clad in the habiliments of death, and the coffin beside him, resting on two chairs across the foot end. "In a moment the illusion vanished, and Mr. W. returned to his own room and struck another match, and again entered the spare bed-room, but everything seemed natural as

"Little was thought of the optical delusion, but last week the eldest son of Mr. W -- was taken ill, and he died last Friday. He was a bright boy of some ten summers, We think the case worthy of a place in Robert Dale Owen's Footfalls on the Boundary of Another World."

REMINISCENCES OF BUNKER HILL .- Mr. Ralph Farnham, the sole survivor of the battle of Bunker Hill, communicates the following bit of his experience, to a committee inviting him to Boston:

When I listed in the American Army at the age of 18, I did not suppose I should live been sold than by the two largest Sewing Machine the age of 18, I did not suppose I should live to be 104, and be asked by the Governor and Mayor, and other distinguished people to visit Boston.

It seems strange that out of all who were at Bunker Hill, I slone should be living. It appears to me, though so long ago, as if it was but vesterday. I can remember the particulars of the march after I listed-how done, my lads," and sent out cider and grog in pails. We got to Cambridge the day before the battle. COMMUNICATED.

I'm sitting 'neath the willows, And I'm mourning all the day, For Flora, for the loved one,

That's far, far away ! When the twinkling lamps of heaven Burn in the argent sky, I'm dreaming, I am dreaming, That a y absent love is by.

And the hills I loved of yore, Of the brooks, and the meads, And the banks of Shenandoah; When at Eve the silv'ry moconlight Fell on the murmuring tide; And the Zephyrs waved the flowers

I'm dreaming of the rocks,

On the bonnie river's side. I'm dreaming of the fair one, That met me on the shore Where two winding rivulets, Their crystal waters pour. Of the ever changing roses

That bloomed upon her cheek, And the silky auburn tresses Around her snowy neck. Flow on, ye gentle waters, Flow on Bandusian stream;

Let not your foamy ripplings Disturb my happy dream : But hide me in thy vapors At morn and evening hours, That I unseen may wander With my love amid the flowers
